Financing of Shopping Center Hinges on Vacating of Streets

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer

A vote on final passage of an ordinance that would vacate three short streets and an alley was delayed for the second time by Granite City Council members Monday night, although adoption of the bill would clear the way for construction of a $15 million shopping center complex at Nameoki and Ponton Roads.

While the ordinance was placed on first reading in the Jan. 3 council session and may be called for a final passage vote at any time, the council withheld action on the measure Monday night when objections to the proposal were voiced by one alderman and several others questioned the possible effects of the vacating action.

Maurice Bailey, Granite City attorney representing the developers of the proposed shopping center, requested the council hold up its vote on the ordinance until all the questions were answered.

The alley, who was in the audience, pointed out that approval of an ordinance vacating streets requires a vote of 75% of the council membership. Approval of the ordinance consequently would require a majority of 11 votes for approval.

Started in 1968, The proposed shopping center would include a Schnuck's Market, Car's Department Store and other retail establishments. It would be built on the southwest quadrant of the intersection of Nameoki and Ponton Roads. Development of the project has been under way since 1968 in a move spearheaded by Henry Ross, Granite City contractor, and the Schnuck and Car's organizations.

The issue came before the council Monday night in the form of a letter from A. A. Henske, director of the real estate division of Schnuck Markets, Inc., in which it was pointed out that financing had been arranged through a Kansas City developer, and that construction could be started by May.

Henske also pointed out that the vacating of Ames, Manley and Kunemann avenues and an alley is necessary to complete the transaction.

The letter noted that the streets involved are mostly "paper" streets that virtually are unused and that virtually all owners in the area have consented to vacating the streets.

During discussion of the issue Monday night, Morlen said: "I am not in favor of this if the city is to receive nothing in return. I can't see why we charge the steel company (Granite City Steel Co.) for vacating streets and not charge anyone else. The steel firm is the backbone of this city, and we charge them for everything they get."

Mayor Donald Partney said he is "in favor of vacating the streets because of the taxes, jobs and economical improvement that would result from operation of the proposed shopping center."

The council did go along, however, with the request for necessary planning of the shopping center complex. It was introduced early in the meeting.

The aldermen approved a request of the SCR Corp. (Schnuck and Car's) for permission to relocate a sanitary sewer line and a storm-water main in the tract on which the shopping center would be built.

During discussion of the proposed ordinance, an alderman asked if an ordinance would be needed. Alderman Roy Poulos, chairman of the Ordinance Committee, pointed out that the ordinance already was on first reading.

"Do you want me to present it tonight?" Poulos asked. It was at this point that Poulos vacated the streets, and the aldermen could be contacted on the question of the ordinance. The answer to their satisfaction.

The letter, addressed to Mayor Partney, was presented at a communication during the Monday night council meeting.

"Our company in conjunction with Carps Department Stores began assembling a 15-acre tract at the southwest intersection of Nameoki and Ponton Roads in 1968."

"This assembling, through acquisition and trade of several parcels, was substantially completed in July of 1970 at which time we proceeded to dedicate a 50-foot-wide right-of-way along the rear property line for the use of Granite City as a city street."

"Since 1970 we have been negotiating with potential developers for the purchase, building and Washington Avenue and Edwardsville Road, excluding the portion of Route 203 which is maintained by the state. The estimated cost is $125,000, plus fees.

In 1971, the plans call for resurfacing Eighth, Market, Skoen, Beckwith, McCasland, Milan and McNair streets, most of Highland Avenue, and Rhodes Street from McCasland to Ponton Road to Farrish Street. Cost is estimated at $102,000, plus engineering.

In 1975, all streets in West Madison will be paved, according to the preliminary plans, as will 10th Street and Grand Avenue from Eighth to 14th streets. The estimated cost is $90,000, plus fees.

In 1976, the remaining streets will be resurfaced at a cost of $30,000 and 12th Street will be paved with eight inches of concrete from State Street to McCasland Avenue. The estimated 12th Street improvement cost is $125,000 for construction and materials.

Urges Approval Mayor Mike Sasyk urged the aldermen to give their approval to the ordinance so that the plan can be started as soon as possible.

"This is something that will be started as soon as possible," he said.

liminary planning outlines and turning them over to city officials.

If the project is approved by the Board of Local Improvements on the basis of testimony presented in the public hearing, appraisers will be assigned to value studies of property in the project for the purpose of setting the amounts of special assessments to be paid by the property owners to finance cost of the work.

The Board of Local Improvements includes Mayor Partney, Alderman Walter Nunn of the Fifth Ward, Street Superintendent Lionel Portell and Second Ward Alderman Frank Greenwald.

They have been working with a special committee of the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce headed by Henry Gabriel in planning the project and determining the most feasible method of financing.

Original plans called for voluntary donations by property owners whose stores and shops would be affected by the improvement.

To Levy Assessments It later was decided to finance the project through a license plate which headed north on Ohio Avenue.

The robber was described as being 20 to 25, 6 feet tall, 170 to 175 pounds, with long blond hair and wearing a waist-length tan jacket with a fleece lining.

Armed Robber Flees With $40 From Store

An armed robber fled with about a $40 bill from a Green's Confectionery, 2500 Danforth St., it was reported at 6:40 p.m. Monday.

Gene Green, proprietor, reported that a man entered the store, and after obtaining two loaves of bread, displayed an automatic pistol with a 6-inch barrel and commanded that all the money in the cash register be placed in a paper bag.

After he complied, Green said, the man fled toward the door, and then he fled.

Green reported that he ran out the back door on the ground and saw the man enter an auto without a rear license plate which headed north on Ohio Avenue.

The robber was described as being 20 to 25, 6 feet tall, 170 to 175 pounds, with long blond hair and wearing a waist-length tan jacket with a fleece lining.

Granite City Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer Leads Madison County Board

By MARION BARTOSIAK

Press-Record Staff Writer

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor, was elected chairman of the Madison County Board of Supervisors at a meeting Wednesday morning.

He succeeds Harold Landolt of Alhambra Township who died last weekend. The term expires April 31.

Hagnauer defeated Arthur "Cooper" Moore, Venice Township supervisor, by a vote of 39 to 1 for the board's top post. The winner was nominated by William Straube of Edwardsville, while Pat Riebold, Jarvis Township supervisor, submitted Moore's name. Wilford Sussen of Fort Russell Township served briefly as temporary chairman.

After Sussen called for the vote, Mayor Ehle, Wood River Township supervisor, asked each candidate about property assessments, employment of an administrator, and committee appointments.

The questions were ruled out of order, leading Ehle to comment that the new chairman undoubtedly would be elected chairman of the reconstituted district board in May. After the vote, Hagnauer said he planned no committee changes but would fill a few vacancies.

Voting for Moore were Riebold, Claude Echols of Venice Township, John Koster of Olive Township, Jay Meurer of Venice Township and Edwin Meyer of Omphugh Township. Hagnauer and Moore were passed on the roll call vote.

Board of Review Election of a Democrat as chairman posed a problem for the Board of Review which has two other Democrats on it. State law requires that at least one be a Republican. Landolt was a Republican.

The supervisory chairman normally serves as ex-officio chairman of the review board. The matter is to be studied for several weeks before a decision is reached. The other members of the board are appointed by the Circuit Court.

Hagnauer, 44, of 2708 Staroga Ave., has been a member of the board since 1960 and was elected as township supervisor in 1961. He headed the board's powerful finance committee and was a member of the study committee.

He is a native and lifelong resident of Granite City and is employed by the Phillips Petroleum Co.

He attended Sacred Heart School and Granite City High School. He is a member of St. Margaret Mary Church, VFW Post 1300, American Legion, Knights and Eagles Lodge. He also belongs to the Illinois Welfare Association, the Illinois Association of County Officials and the Illinois Association of Supervisors.

He is married and has one daughter and one son.

A memorial resolution and prayer were offered for Mr. Landolt, who was a 32-year member of the board and its chairman since 1963. A floral tribute from the National Association of County Officials was placed next to his portrait during the meeting and then turned to his family.

The Board of Review was granted a 30-day extension to complete its assessment hearing as it is unable to do so by the Jan. 28 deadline.

George Yenn and Sylvester Bugger were reappointed to four-year terms on the county's 708 Mental Health Board.

Madison Teachers Ready To Resume Contract Talks

Residence Federation of Teachers Local 783 has notified the Madison school board that it stands ready at any time to resume negotiations for a 1971-72 contract. Negotiations were broken off by the school board two weeks ago due to a long stalemate over a salary increase.

General Steel Plant Back to Work After Settlement; New Talks

By MARION BARTOSIAK

Press-Record Staff Writer

Employees of the Castings Division of General Steel Industries began returning to their jobs Tuesday as limited production resumed following an eight-and-a-half week strike by United Steelworkers of America Local 1029.

The strike ended as more than 800 steelworkers ratified on Monday a new three-year contract agreed upon by company and union negotiators during a 15-hour meeting in St. Louis Friday.

The ratification meeting began at the Labor Temple at 4 p.m. Monday and continued until 7 p.m. All but approximately 30 steelworkers voted to return to work, according to a spokesman for the United Steelworkers of America, said.

The agreement calls for increased wages and cost-of-living benefits totaling at least 8 1/2% over the next three-year period, plus certain improvements in fringe benefits, Becker said.

The wage increases include a 32-cent across-the-board hourly increase the first year, 14 cents plus a cost-of-living raise the second year, and 17 1/2 cents plus a cost-of-living raise the third year. The cost of living clause carry a 10-cent per hour minimum.

Pickets at the plant left at 1:30 a.m. Saturday, Becker said.

During the strike, all production at the plant was halted and approximately 200 Boilermakers honored the picket lines. All other production workers were laid off for the duration of the strike.

The Boilermakers are returning to work while contract negotiations proceed between their union and the Castings Division.

On Jan. 3, 112 salaried and supervisory personnel were instructed not to report for work until called.

"The company is calling back employees as fast as production can be resumed," the spokesman said. He added that some departments were able to resume work at the pre-strike level almost immediately, but in other departments, such as the foundry, it will take about two weeks to resume full production.

"Some furnaces may take several weeks to get back on line, so we should be at the pre-strike manpower level in about two and-a-half weeks," he related.

The new three-year Steelworkers' contract expires on Jan. 14, 1975.

Richard L. Lich, president of the Castings Division, indicated that the plant will resume normal operations as soon as possible and that employees will be contacted individually and informed when to return to work.

The old contract between Local 1022 and the Castings Division expired last Nov. 1 but was extended to Nov. 19 to permit further negotiations.

Local 1022 represents 800 of the 100 hourly wage employees of the Division, which produces castings for the electrical power, transportation and other industries.

Taxpayer Group to Expand

Expansion of the Tri-City Taxpayers' Public Expenditures Survey Group through an area-wide membership drive and stepped-up inspections of tax agency operations was authorized Tuesday in a noon lunch meeting of the organization's board of directors at Charlie's Restaurant.

Eleven members of the board who attended the meeting authorized the survey group's secretary, William F. Hoelscher, to incorporate the organization under a state charter and to file an application with the federal government as a tax-exempt civic body.

A nominating committee was named to bring in a recommended slate of officers at the next meeting.

Hoelscher, who also is executive director of the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities, announced the next meeting of the board will be held Feb. 2. The board, that time also scheduled to act on a set of by-laws which was presented during Tuesday's session.

Decision to develop and expand the group's activities was reached after statistics presented by Hoelscher showed substantial increases in the 1971 tax rates of tax bodies in the Quad-City area, and that time also scheduled to act on a set of by-laws which was presented during Tuesday's session.

Founded Two Years Ago The organization was established two years ago as the Taxpayers' Expenditure Survey Committee under sponsorship of the manufacturers' association.

Since then, the committee has provided "watchdog" activity over area tax agencies and made public the factors involved in rising budgets, assessments and tax rates.

Hoelscher said that a membership drive in which individuals will be recruited as members, as well as industries and businesses, now is being planned.

He noted that all tax rate increases affect individual property owners as well as larger corporations and business firms and that in providing for watchful guardianship over what the taxing agencies do, the organization can keep the public aware of what is being done with its money.

Attending Tuesday's board session were Tom Majewski, American Steel Foundries; Wilfred F. Hoelscher, Granite City Steel Co.; vice-president-secretary-treasurer; Austin Witter, taxation manager of General Steel Industries; Wayne Jackson, Marshfield Division of Miles Laboratories; Wayne Schuenke, A. O. Smith Corp.; Paul H. Lichtenberger, chairman of the First Granite City National Bank; Phil Smith, assistant tax manager of the Illinois Power Co.; Decatur.

Edward Kellogg, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-City; Mrs. Mary Sedelmaier, Chamber of Commerce Tax Committee; William Leber, Tax Department of Union Electric Co.; and William Hoelscher of the manufacturers' association.

Surfacing for Asphalt Streets in Madison

The first step in a five-year program to resurface all Madison streets not now paved with concrete was approved Tuesday night by the Madison City Council.

The program will cost an estimated $600,000 plus engineering fees and is broken into yearly phases, each costing approximately $100,000, according to George H. Shanahan, associate engineer with Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab Inc., civil engineers, who presented the plan to the council. The work would be financed with motor fuel tax funds.

The aldermen gave their approval to preparation of plans for the first phase in which work would be completed this year. The first phase calls for resurfacing Alton Avenue and 14th Street and Iowa streets with a two-inch layer of hot mix asphalt at a cost of $90,000, plus engineering.

The plans must be approved by the state highway department before resurfacing can be started. Once the streets have been repaved, they will need no maintenance except crack filling for about 10 years, Shanahan said.

1973 Schedule Plans for the resurfacing of Sixth, Seventh and 14th streets.

'Anti-Politics' Supt. Bakalis at Muskie Endorsement Conference

By KEN WATSON
Capitol News Service

SPRINGFIELD — Springfield visits of two contenders for the Democratic nomination for President reflected the character of their respective campaigns.

The Statehouse professionally with U. S. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, U. S. Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota had to rely on the amateurs—and young ones, at that. Democratic regulars in Illinois are going for Muskie and there is little doubt beneath the Statehouse Dome that he will wind up with about all of this state's delegates at the national convention.

His front-running status was vividly reflected in the red-carpet treatment Muskie received at the Capitol. The large legislative hearing room was arranged for his formal endorsement by U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III.

Democratic officeholders were out in force. Governorial candidate Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, publicly neutral in the presidential situation, made it a point to be present and seated among the notables. So did State Auditor Michael J. Howlett, in the race for secretary of state.

Michael J. Bakalis, who campaigned against Supt. Ray Page on the issue that Page had involved the office of state superintendent of public instruction too much in politics, was there with top aides and a large contingent of employees who made up much of the Muskie-Stevenson cheering section.

The only Democrat of note who was missing was State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon, who has been less than enthusiastic with the regular party organization since he was chosen by lawmakers for U. S. Senator.

The Muskie-Stevenson show performed with all the smooth professionalism of a team sensing victory.

William I. Flanagan, who has served Adlai Stevenson II and III with great public relations skills, did his usual good job. The small army of television cameramen enjoyed the most convenient of facilities.

Besides the Bakalis force, other Democratic-held Capitol offices supplied the manpower and womanpower for an enthusiastic audience. There was a sizable contingent of the liberal young, but they did not dominate.

The scenario was much different the following day. McGovern trooped to the Statehouse accompanied almost solely by the idealists of the contemporary campus, their eyes shining on McGovern with adulation.

His entourage—although far smaller than Muskie's—nevertheless seemed to have a fire and fervor lacking for the man from Maine.

McGovern's press conference was staged on a landing between floors on the main Capitol stairway and was one of those pushing, shoving, affairs—in sharp contrast to the Muskie operation.

Also in contrast to the previous day, the Statehouse Democratic hierarchy was totally absent.

McGovern had to trek on his own to the office of Simon and Bakalis.

There was the distinct flavor of the underdog, the brave man fighting in a hopeless cause, in the entire McGovern visit.

The young idealists honored McGovern as a champion.

Services Held for Mrs. Phyll Koch

Mrs. Koch was born in Granite City and lived most of her life in Edwardsville Township. For the past two years, she had been employed in the office of ABC Electric Co., a Granite City business owned by her nephew, Conrad Bauer.

Her husband, William H. Koch, died 12 years ago.

Other than the two sisters, Mrs. Koch is survived by three children, Ross Koch of Edwardsville, Vivian Ann and Roger Koch at home; another sister, Mrs. Melvin (Christine) Braasch of Prairie Township, Ill.; one brother, Jacob Bauer of St. Charles, Ill., and nieces and nephews.

ing and leasing of a proposed 144,000 square foot retail center.

"Our determination and persistence in this involved and lengthy matter was supported by substantial marketing research and personal conviction in the retail sales potential of this location and the future growth of Granite City.

"Recently we have concluded negotiations for the acquisition of the center by a Kansas City development. The total project cost is estimated to be over $1,400,000.

"As a matter of general information, the retail sales to be generated by this development are conservatively projected to exceed $10,000,000 annually and in relation to new employment in the Granite City area, we expect a payroll of full and part-time employees to top $30.

"Under our current schedule, construction will begin in May with completion before Thanksgiving of 1972.

"The developer and his lender have requested one major contingency be cleared before proceeding, which is the vacating of Amos and Manley avenues (the alley between also) and Kunnemann Avenue, which are encompassed in our total parcel.

"Assurances have been given us that neighboring property owners who have an interest in these streets will agree to the vacating. If the city does not subject to receiving substitute easements over the property.

"All of Kunnemann Avenue and half of Amos and Manley avenues are currently parking streets with no improvements.

"The existing land in these streets does not appear to be in use to be serving the public interest of Granite City as roadways and, in fact, present, seemingly, from time to time a maintenance expense.

"This property vacated to the adjoining owners will enable our development to progress and will place non-productive property of the city on a tax paying basis.

"We hope to present our petition to the city council on this vacating matter in the near future and we solicit your support and that of the respective aldermen for a project we feel will be a progressive contribution to this area of Granite City.

"The developer, the president of Corp's Department Stores and myself would be appreciative to have the opportunity to meet with the aldermen and yourself, if you desire, present, to discuss our development in detail or answer any questions you may have."

School Board Calls Bids For High School Building

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

A contract for construction of the new high school in Granite City is scheduled for letting at the March 8 meeting of the Board of Education, according to plans approved at a meeting Monday night.

B. J. Davis, superintendent, told the board that plans and specifications are being printed this week and will be ready for contractors to pick up for bidding purposes on Monday.

The bids are to be opened on Wednesday, Feb. 23, and will be reviewed until the following meeting. Davis said a large number of contractors are expected to submit bids.

The board accepted a sole bid of $6,600 of a cost of a three-year pre-paid premium for liability insurance. Pacific Indemnity Co., with Norman Holsinger as local agent, pending confirmation of the premium.

The insurance required under a new state law, will protect the district and its employees and personnel in cases of civil suits filed against them for any damages caused while they are representing the district.

Victor G. Anderson, comptroller, said he was unable to obtain a contract for coverage from any other source.

Hearing Impaired

The board was informed that the Alton program for hearing-impaired, in which three Granite City children were enrolled, has been discontinued because of the resignation of the only available properly trained teacher of the deaf.

Plans were approved to transfer the three, along with one child from Bethalto, to a class at Lake School, which would have an enrollment of eight at two levels.

James K. Sloan, supervisor of special education for Madison County, was available at the meeting, was urged to recruit proper teachers who will be graduating from colleges and to submit recommendations on needs in operating the program which is conducted on a regional basis involving six counties.

In a review of a North Central review of the program in technical-industrial education at Granite City High School, Marshall Wittvrongel, administrative vocational assistant, reported that a program in carpentry be started and recommended discontinuance of the program school.

He said pattern-making employment levels have diminished while those in carpentry are increasing.

Fire Inspections

In a review of follow-up on findings of fire inspection of the school in the fall, Charles H. Roman, assistant fire chief, reported that most items found to be in error have been corrected.

He asked that a six or eight-inch water line be placed at the high school to circulate water to three hydrants and assure sufficient pressure and volume of water in case of fire. The board called for a survey of the have to be done eventually and if we do not do it in the near future, the cost soon will be prohibitive," the Mayor said.

He said he would investigate means of financing the project but the city now has enough motor fuel tax funds available to complete the first year's program.

Shanahan also indicated the proposed extension of 12th Street westward to Route 151, a $400,000 project, could be included in the plans, possibly in the fifth year.

The five-year plan calls for bond conditions and state approval without changes in the preliminary schedules, he said. He commented that if problems are encountered it could take as long as eight years to complete the resurfacing program.

The council also renewed its annual agreement with Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, retaining the firm as the city's engineers for 1972.

5 Suits Stolen

A couple who entered P. N. Hirsch & Co., 1818 Street, at Edison Avenue at 9:30 a.m. yesterday is suspected of having stolen 5 men's suits, valued at $250. Employees said the couple looked at several suits and then left. The theft was discovered a short time later.

Madison May Cut Fire Protection Outside City

Madison and Nameoki Township officials are to meet soon to discuss fire protection for township areas near Madison which would be affected if the Madison Volunteer Fire Department withdraws the protection it presently provides. Included are homes in the Cloverleaf Subdivision.

At the Madison City Council meeting Tuesday night, a letter from the fire department stating that the volunteer firemen had voted unanimously to discontinue protection outside of the city limits, if the city council concurs in the plan.

Madison Mayor Mike Sayk told the aldermen, "I am against doing away with outside city calls until these people have fire protection." He recommended the issue be studied by the council's fire committee and Nameoki Township officials.

In other action the council approved an ordinance establishing a pay incentive plan for policemen completing accredited college law enforcement courses.

Approved the Mayor's appointment of Lester M. Firox, 1041 Washington Ave., Madison, as city comptroller, effective Feb. 1.

Approved a $2.85 per gallon bid for Cellucut Corp. for 60 bid for paint for street markings, a $1,800 bid for McClellan Asphalt Co. for 200 tons of road patching materials, and a bid of $8.30 per ton for road salt.

Friedman Store to Observe 50th Anniversary This Week

Founded on Jan. 22, 1922, by E. A. Friedman and his late father, William, Friedman's furniture, hardware and appliance store will observe its golden anniversary Friday and Saturday, and with other events continuing through the anniversary year.

E. A. Friedman remains active in the store along with his son, Jack, president. The store still occupies its original building at Fifth Street and Madison Avenue, Madison, but now utilizes the entire structure, having initially shared it with a grocery store.

As part of the 50th anniversary celebration, Friedman's will serve birthday cake and coffee to visitors tomorrow and Saturday.

E. A. Friedman has been associated with the firm throughout its history and Jack Friedman has been active on a full-time basis since January 1966 after earlier part-time service.

Long Service by Staff
Longtime employees include William Vavra, manager of the hardware and paint department, associated with Friedman's for 35 years; Charles Svoboda, 27 years; Mrs. Hetty Diamond, Robert Zellerman and Miss Lorette Antline, 23 years each, and Mrs. Mayme Vallow, 20 years.

Another "old-timer" is the store's line of Pittsburgh Paint Co. products. The continuous association for 50 years is believed to be the longest in this region.

Also joining in the anniversary activities will be Friedman's Early American Shop, 405 Madison Ave., established in 1961.

Originally known as Madison Paint and Hardware, the main store later became the E. A. Friedman Co.

World War I Officer
E. A. Friedman's life spans every decade of the history of Madison. A graduate of Madison High School and Washington University, where he received a law degree, he served as an infantry lieutenant in World War I.

President of the United Hebrew Congregation in Madison for nine years, he also organized and served as president of the Madison Parent-Teacher Association.

Active in the American Legion, Boy Scout Council, Masonic order and B'nai B'rith, he was Madison civilian defense coordinator in World War II. He later served as civil defense director and then as Madison natural disaster defense director.

Charter Rotary Member
A charter member and past president of the Rotary Club, he was honored by the club in 1965 on his 40th anniversary as a Rotarian. He and his wife, Hannah, reside at 1620 Fourth St.

Jack Friedman, also a Madison High and Washington University graduate, lives in University City with his wife, Bernice, and their children. He served as an Army staff sergeant in World War II.

He also is a Madison Rotarian and a past president of the club, and holds the Silver Beaver Award, highest honor bestowed by the Chokoma Mount Council, Boy Scouts of America.

$760,150 Grant Approved For More Park Land

A grant for $760,150 in matching federal funds for acquisition of an additional 904 acres of land near Horseshoe Lake for a proposed state park was approved Monday by the Department of the Interior.

The grant is for the third phase of land acquisition around the lake and calls for purchase of 525 land acres and 379 underwater acres. The grant will be matched by state funds for a total of $1,520,300.

Work is proceeding on phase one and phase two acquisition projects, but only 47 acres of the 2,500 acres to be obtained have actually been signed over to the state. Robert Adams, assistant director of the State Conservation Department said yesterday.

Phase one appropriated a total of $1,385,000 for purchase of 1,808 acres, mostly underwater, and phase two called for 878 acres to be purchased with $1,222,850 of federal and state funds.

Robert said funds for land purchased since September have been released and some property owners should be receiving checks for their land "in the very near future."

The Horseshoe Lake Park project was among those for which funds were temporarily frozen by the Bureau of the Budget due to financial difficulties in the federal government.

Also attending the meeting at a dinner meeting of the Granite City Kiwanis Club at Charlie's Restaurant.

His talk pertained to Kiwanis Education week being observed throughout the district.

Also attending the meeting with local members were four members of the Collinsville Club, Gene Hammell, Herb Watts, Harry Koelling and Vern Stotts.

Hi-Run Accident
The car of Dale Odie Bailey, 2257 Cleveland Blvd., parked in front of his house, was struck by a hit and run vehicle at 7:30 a.m. yesterday.

Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney in letters inviting town collectors to the Jan. 26 meeting, pointed out that it is possible the county will operate the collecting units on a revenue sharing basis, using income tax receipts for payments to the town collectors.

The county has computed a budget of $211,000 for payment of town collectors during the 1972 tax collection period.

The new system will result in considerable fee losses to the townships. Under the old system, fees collected by township collectors, over and above the cost of office operation and the collector's salary, was turned over to the town fund.

In Granite City where township boundaries are coextensive to those of the city, the city treasurer has collected taxes in past years that resulted in distribution of about $170,000 per year in fees to the city. This money will be lost to Granite City under the new system.

'Share Time With Youth' Adults Needed to Help

An increasing demand for responsible adults to share a few hours with a boy or girl from a motherless or a fatherless home has been noted by staff members at Coordinated Youth Services, according to C. A. "Bud" MacMillan, executive director.

MacMillan said, "A responsible adult model who will spend a few hours from time to time with a boy—perhaps fishing, hunting or watching a sporting event—can in many cases establish a relationship unknown to the type of youngster who urgently needs some personal attention."

The CYS officer commented that a few quality hours with an interested man has turned a boy around to function as a responsible youngster.

He stressed that no cost, or a very minimal amount, is required to be expended in the program.

"share time" program. The emphasis is placed upon sharing of hours rather than purchasing materials or serving as an escort to expensive activities, the director stated.

Any man who has a hobby such as trains, building model airplanes, archery, woodworking, leathercraft, photography or stamp collecting could share his own enjoyment with a boy a few hours a week.

The need for women to provide adult companionship for girls is equally stressed by Mrs. Gladys Bass, CYS caseworker, who noted that many girls would greatly benefit from associating with a responsible woman.

A number of "quality hours" could be spent talking and listening to the multitude of personal problems a young girl may have, or discussing grooming, making minor repairs to clothing or taking a girl shopping for an afternoon, Mrs. Bass said.

Area residents interested in this approach to working with young people from grade school through the teenage level, are invited to call the CYS office, at 678-2383, for additional information, MacMillan said.

Cougars Gain 1st Win, Down McKendree 96-86

The Cougar basketball team from Southern Illinois University-Southern won its first game of the season after 11 defeats by downing McKendree College 96-86 last night on the Cougars' home court.

The conquest came after the Cougars, after taking a lead, allowed to the University of Wisconsin-Parkside a taste of victory seemed within reach. But it was narrowed to 44-38 at the half and the visiting Rangers continued to rally for the 83-80 outcome.

Leading the Cougars were Gene Bouds with 19 points, Johnson with 17 and Thorne-Brown with 16. Ward added 8, Blaudow 7, Ramsey 6 and Miller 3 and James and Holmes two each. Topping Parkside was Tom Joyce, a freshman guard with 23 points.

The Cougars connected with 34 field goals and 12 free throws while Parkside totaled 33 from the field and 17 from the charity line.

SUI-SW will host the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle, at 8 p.m. Saturday and will travel to Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo., Monday night.

Warriors Win Salem Opener, Defeat Effingham 77-69

The Granite City High School basketball Warriors defeated the Effingham Fighting Hearts in their opening round of the Salem Invitational tournament Wednesday, 77-69.

The Warriors led at quarter marks 25-15, 44-29 and 60-44. "We played three real good quarters of basketball, but in the final quarter we were making mental mistakes, and looked like an inexperienced club," Coach Don Detering said. "Fortunately for us our lead was good enough and they didn't hurt us."

Detering came to Granite City five years ago from Effingham and this was the first time since leaving he has met his former coach.

The Warriors hit on 32 of 61 field attempts for a 52% average. Flaming Hearts, who played 28 field goals.

Each team picked up 13 charity tosses. GCHS had 24 chances for 54% mark.

Terry Ripka led the scoring, racking up 34 points. Joe Wallace and Kevin Dyer each had 19, Bob Wiggin and Tom Vrelick 2 each and Chuck Kraus 1.

The Warriors committed 18 fouls and Effingham 17. Kraus fouled out in the last quarter with 10 seconds to go.

This was a very satisfying win for the Warriors as well as the team. Detering commented, "Dyer played a really fantastic game, he led in rebounds with 11 of our 35. Wallace connected with 8 out of 11 shots, which is real good as he always shoots from about 25 feet out."

The Warriors played 74-47 victor over Greenville, at 7 p.m. Friday.

The championship game is set for 8 p.m. Saturday.

Gets 3rd 'Hat Trick'

McFarland, 10, a center, is third in the division in individual scoring. He is in his third season of play with Granite City Amateur Hockey Association teams, the only Illinois squads competing in the bi-state hockey league.

A fifth grade pupil at Parkview School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McFarland, 234 Willow Ave. The local Squirrels squad is sponsored by Country Club Estates.

Trash Bags Take New Role; Form 'Snowman'
Motorists driving in the 3400 block of Nameoki Road early today did a double-take when they glimpsed a new type of "snowman" standing in solitary dignity in a front yard.

A sense of humor or a longing for snow must have instigated the odd-looking figure which was created from green trash bags shaped into a snowman silhouette. A yellow paper nose and eyes, plus a white paper hat set at a jaunty angle, completed the unusual caricature.

Truck Driver Killed in I-270 Mishap

Leonard G. Huffman, 47, of Whitewater, Mo., was injured fatally at 3:10 a.m. yesterday when his tractor-trailer ran off the highway and overturned on Interstate 270, a few miles west of State Route 111.

Madison county sheriff's deputies said they were unable to explain the cause of the accident. They said Huffman's west-bound truck unit apparently left the road, traveled down the shoulder of the highway for about 300 yards and overturned on the right side and then onto the top.

The truck snapped off a highway sign shortly after leaving the pavement. The truck was carrying a load of steel.

Huffman was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital here at 3:50 a.m.

The truck was owned by Paul Mitchell of Ironton, Mo. Huffman was employed by the M.W.M. Trucking Co. of Arcadia, Mo. His body was taken to a Granite City funeral home from which it was taken to a funeral home in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Richard McIntosh, Madison County deputy sheriff, was turned on the back by battery acid as he crawled into the truck cab in an effort to free Huffman's body. He was treated for second degree burns.

Volunteer firemen from Mitchell got Huffman out of the cab by sawing off the steering wheel with a power saw.

Bandit Robs Liquor Store; Gets $160

A robber armed with a Luger pistol took $160 cash and a handgun from the Town and Country Liquor Store, Rural Route Two, near Mitchell, at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The man, described as about 22 years of age, entered the store and asked Harold Massey, owner, for a fifth of whiskey. It was reported. The owner asked the man for identification and the robber produced the pistol and took $160 from the cash register. Massey's wallet containing $80 and the handgun, the owner's son, followed the getaway car in his own car but lost it.

Deputies searched the island but failed to locate the car. The description of the gunman matches those of a victim in seven other recent area robberies, deputies said.

Armed Robber Flees, Night Clerk Panics

An armed robber fled without any loot at the Travelodge Motel, 1200 Nineteenth St., at 2:50 a.m. today when the night clerk panicked, and screamed.

Mrs. Myrtle Rogers, clerk, told police a young man entered the office, put a gun to her chest and said he wanted all the paper money. She said she did not have the key to open the cash drawer.

The robber told her to open it or he would kill her, she related. The man was described as being 17 or 18 with brown eyes, black medium curly hair, light tanned skin, and wearing khaki trousers and a white striped shirt.

Pontoon Officer Protests Nun's Ouster, Quits Job

Sgt. William Luchini of the Pontoon Beach Police Department resigned his post, effective immediately, in a letter to Thomas L. Stauffer, village board president, Tuesday.

Luchini, who resides at 7 Violet Court, said the suspension of Sister Cornelia Hawkins, former nun policewoman, was the principal reason for his resignation.

"The text of the letter follows: 'I have served the police department as a volunteer police officer for two years. During this time I have deprived my family and myself in order to contribute my part to keep a safe community for all of the citizens.'

"Due to political maneuvering in the department it has been difficult to perform my duties properly, knowing that certain politicians were against me. Even with all of the pressures, I felt I must serve.

No Longer Can Serve.

"Now, after hearing of the dismissal of Sister Cornelia for trumped up political charges, I feel that I can no longer serve as police officer for the Village of Pontoon Beach.

"Sister Cornelia has done an excellent job for our department, not only in the line of duty, but also in collecting donations to set up the police station in the beginning. I feel that Sister Cornelia has the best interests of the people at heart and in no way would she say anything that is not justified.

"Therefore, I submit my resignation to be effective immediately."

Sister Cornelia was suspended indefinitely from her post as a police dispatcher and juvenile officer by the village board of trustees Thursday, Jan. 12. The board held she allegedly violated police department rules by taking grievances about the village and police department to an outside meeting rather than to her superiors.

Trustee indicted.

She attended a meeting at the home of Roger Elbie, Wood River Township supervisor, Nov. 9, at which alleged irregularities in village operations were discussed. A grand jury

Venice Fireman Hurt While Fighting Fire

A Venice fireman was injured while fighting a fire at Hyman Michaels Co. in Leonard at 6:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Fireman Tom Leonard, 39, of 532 Mercedia St., Venice, was among those fighting a fire and tar fire around a scrap boxcar when he overturned a heavy piece of metal, cutting a two-inch gash in his right ankle.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where sutures were administered and he was released.

Investigation was begun a few days later and a village trustee, Fred Recer, was indicted on conflict of interest charges. Luchini's wife, Mrs. Pat Luchini, a Nameoki Township general assistance worker, was among three township officials indicted by the same grand jury on charges of gambling in conducting a raffle to raise political funds. Others charged were Louis Whissell, Nameoki Township supervisor, and Matthew Ropac, head of the Truth and Action Party.

Assets of Madison County Federal Savings And Loan Reach New High of $16 Million

The housing picture for 1972 looks good for the Granite City community, particularly if area families continue saving their money at nearly the same rate as in 1971. A.H.H. Froemling, president, Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association, said yesterday at the annual shareholders' meeting.

Froemling predicted continued favorable savings flows and an ample supply of mortgage money for the year ahead in the institution's annual report.

He said that 1971 was the greatest year in the history of the savings and loan business and that the widespread growth of the business was reflected in the savings and loan business locally.

"Late in 1971, the savings and loan business passed the $200 billion mark in assets," he said. "It took 132 years for the business to reach the $100 billion mark in 1963. It took only eight years to accumulate the second $100 billion, a remarkable achievement for any system of financial institutions."

Directors who were re-elected for 1972 included A. F. Bunte, R. B. Dunlap, A. H. Froemling, Dr. K. J. Hillmer, E. L. Hopkins, J. L. Patchett, W. C. Rainford, J. W. Reese and Gilbert Roach.

In addition to Froemling, officers who were re-elected are: Bunte, vice-president; Roach, secretary and treasurer; and E. M. Early, assistant secretary.

Froemling said that on the basis of present prospects, mortgage rates will remain at approximately their present levels during the early months of 1972, and that interest paid on savings accounts also will remain the same.

Deposits Up 17.9%.

He reported that as of Dec. 31, 1971, savings deposits at Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association amounted to $13,566,666, up 17.9% from one year ago. Mortgage loans on the books amounted to $13,046,704.

Assets of the Association rose to a record figure of $16,420,362.

At Madison County Federal, there are now 4,711 savings account holders who received a total of $64,070 dividends on their deposits during the year.

"Since mid-August," Froemling said, "the federal administration's anti-inflation efforts have been productive. If progress along this line can be continued, we should have another excellent year in 1972."

Manatee Subject of Convocation Monday

The Undersea World series of Jacques Cousteau will be the topic under discussion Monday at a convocation sponsored by the mass communications department at SIU-SW. The public is invited.

The convocation will be held in the TV studio in the Communications Building. From 7 to 8 p.m., persons will watch "The Forgotten Mermals," which is being telecast nationally. In this area, the program will be seen on Channel 2.

After the film, Jack Shaheen, assistant professor of mass communications, will discuss the series. Shaheen spent a month in Hollywood last year participating in a television documentary workshop conducted by the executive producer of the Cousteau series.

"The Forgotten Mermals" is a film about the manatee—a low—which is becoming extinct. While the sea cow has no real reason for existence, Cousteau says, "There is no manatee, as much as any other creature, have a right to life."

An enthusiastic Cousteau fan, Shaheen says the series, in its fourth consecutive year, "is unlike anything on commercial TV. Not only is Cousteau filming material that is more stunning than anything that has been done before, but he is also filming many things that have never been seen before."

The Granite City High School "Scholar Quiz" team was eliminated from competition in the televised quiz program by losing to St. Louis Prep Seminary in the semi-final round, held during the weekend.

Ecumenical Institute To Start Here Friday

A full weekend course taught by teachers from Ecumenical Institute of Chicago will begin here at 7 p.m. Sunday and continue through 1 p.m. Sunday.

The course, Religious Studies I, is designed to provide Christians of all faiths the tools for decisive action in a secular world. Utilized during the three-day session are lecture studies, discussions and studies of papers from four prominent theologians, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Paul Tillich, H. Richard Niebuhr and Rudolf Bultmann.

Among those who will be attending the course are 12 members of a Methodist Church in St. Louis and others from as far away as Columbia, Mo.

The 42-hour course will begin with dinner at Central Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), 2020 Johnson Road, and will continue at the church through the noon meal Sunday. Sleeping arrangements are available for those who wish to stay at the church.

Registration, which will continue through this evening, is $12.50 per person or $22.50 per couple, including the price of meals. The registration price tomorrow will be $16 per person and $25 per couple. Those wishing to enroll may contact Dr. Jim Ambis, pastor of Central Christian Church at 878-0532 or 452-7519.

Clothing Center Seeks Coats for Youngsters

The extremely cold temperatures experienced here the past week have created a heavy and urgent demand for warm coats from the Nearly New Clothing Center operated by the Quad-City Council of Church Women United.

Mrs. Joyce Schrader, clothing center chairman, reported today that the center has many unfilled requests for winter coats for local school children.

"Anyone who has a good, warm coat hanging in their closet, which is no longer of use to their own youngsters, we would appreciate the garment being donated to us," Mrs. Schrader said.

Coats may be brought to the Nearly New Clothing Center headquarters, located at Coordinated Youth Services, 1235 N. Ringhaus Ave., or the garment will be picked up by a volunteer worker if the donor is without transportation, the chairman said.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the CYS office, at 878-2383.

Truckers May Now Submit Quarterly Mileage Forms

Secretary of State John W. Lewis has reminded truckers who have registered their vehicles under the mileage weight option that they may now submit quarterly mileage reports instead of monthly reports.

The quarterly reports are due on or before the 10th day of April, July, October and January. It is still required that daily mileage records be kept and retained for three years. Another new provision of the law requires that owners maintain records of fuel consumed by each truck or tractor with a mileage weight plate. Secretary Lewis said, "This is in addition to records of fuel purchased. These records must also be retained for three years, Lewis said.

Shrine Club to Hold Drum, Bugle Contest

The Tri-City Shrine Club will sponsor a drum and bugle corps contest on Aug. 14 at the Granite City High School football field. It was announced in a request for use of the field by Avery Schermer, club president.

The request was approved by the Granite City Board of Education Monday night contingent upon weather conditions, payment of costs incurred and replacement of any damage to the field.

Schermer said the units competing will be the Black Knights of Belleville, the Stardusters of New Orleans, the Kilteers of Racine, Wis., national VFW champs, the St. Paul, Minn., Scouts, the Van Guards of Chicago, the St. Pat Cadets of Milwaukee and the Bellettes of Belleville.

Each unit will present 15-minute performances which will be judged by professional judges. A finale with all bands on the field will conclude the program and awards will be made.

Proceeds will go to the pediatric department of St. Elizabeth Hospital and to the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council.

Automotive Use of Steel Shows Gains

Washington—Although domestic steel shipments rose for the third month in a row, imported steel still accounted for one-fifth of all steel marketed in the U. S. during November, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

AISI reported U. S. mills shipped 5,791,000 tons during the month. This was 809,000 tons more than they shipped to customers in October and 2,063,000 tons higher than August's, 12-year low.

However, the institute noted, November imports were 1,472,000 tons. This meant that foreign producers supplied 25% of total apparent U. S. consumption of steel during the month.

In November, the nation's automakers, steel service centers and container industry increased their purchases from domestic mills. Shipments to the construction industry, however, were down slightly from October.

Through the first 11 months of 1971, domestic steel shipments totalled 81,085,000 tons, compared with 83,925,000 tons shipped during the comparable period of 1970.

Grades of steel shipped in the first 11 months of 1971 and for November with comparisons (in net tons) were:

Carbon steel, 73,883,000 in 11 months; 76,834,000 in 11 months of 1970; 5,306,000 in November 1971; and 5,620,000 in November 1970.

Stainless steel, 662,000, 653,000, 49,000 and 47,000.

Tool steel, 71,000, 82,000, 6,700 and 5,800.

Alloy steel (other than tool), 6,469,000, 6,355,000, 430,000 and 448,000.

Market classifications were:

Automotive, 16,438,000 compared to 13,320,000 and 1,049,000 compared to 863,000.

Steel service centers, 14,940,000, 16,199,000, 1,118,000 and 1,277,000.

Construction and Products, 12,755,000, 14,030,000, 884,000 and 1,097,000.

Containers and packaging, 6,751,000, 7,324,000, 574,000 and 399,000.

Mrs. Slate, affectionately known as "Grandmother Slate" by many local residents, received flowers, numerous cards, gifts and greetings from her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Slate Jr., three grandsons, Irvin Slate Jr., of Granite City, Dennis Slate of Charlotte, N. C. and Arch Slate Jr., of Flossmoor, Ill.; and seven great-grandchildren.

great-granddaughter, and a great-niece, Miss Sherry Ann Swegal, presided at the guest book during the reception.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Slate's great-nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ong of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stuart of St. Louis and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leuninger of Normandy, Mo. The latter couple recently returned from Korea where they represented the Normandy Presbyterian Church in hospital work. The hosts were assisted by Mrs. Edna Trower, Mrs. Sherry Swegal, Mrs. Irvin Slate Jr., and Sandra, Dawn and Teri Voss.

The Sacred Heart Parent-Teacher Organization for its January meeting with the president, Jerry Walker, presiding. The unit heard as special guest speaker, Mrs. Dorothy Trower, multiple sclerosis campaign chairman for 1972.

Walker expressed appreciation for volunteers who assisted with the first "winter carnival" last month. He thanked Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts for their assistance.

The president said he hopes that the carnival will be an annual event. He said those selling the most tickets were Greg Jones, sixth grade, Loretta Lapinski, seventh, and Liz Zeilinka, eighth grade. The room prize was won by the eighth grade.

A motion was approved to replace a tape recorder for the school.

Walker announced that the third Mardi Gras dance will be held Feb. 12, with the Tune Twisters providing the music; the price is $6 a couple. There will be an advance ticket sale and sales at the door.

The new principal, Sister Karla, spoke on the present system of book rental and exchange, which has been rental for the first through third grade students and an exchange program for the fourth through eighth grades. Instead, the principal hopes to establish a rental basis for all grades.

Sister Karla announced that a science fair will be held Feb. 12 with entries made completely by the pupils. Judging will be held Feb. 6 and parents are to see the displays Feb. 7.

The principal noted that a Confraternity of Christian Doctrine teacher is needed for 3-4 p.m. Wednesdays for third and fourth grade students.

A film, "My Friend Joe," was shown to the unit by Mrs. Trower, a victim of multiple sclerosis for nearly 20 years. She asked the members for their support in the campaign March 18-20. The chairman explained services offered by the sclerosis society and told how the disease occurs in young adults.

Refreshments were served by fifth and sixth grade room mothers.

we care

"a bit more"
is what makes our white bread better!

We're talking of course about Jane Parker White Bread.

We use a bit more milk than we have to, to give you a richer loaf.

We never use milk substitutes.

We use a bit more shortening than we have to, to give you a softer loaf . . . the way you like it.

We use a bit more sugar than we have to, to give Jane Parker more flavor.

We use a baking process that produces a velvety-soft, silky-textured slice . . . free of holes.

We pack it fresh from the oven in a reusable plastic bag with a twist-tie for convenient reclosing.

And we unconditionally guarantee you'll like it.

So, you see, we really do do "a bit more."

Since Jane Parker Bread is sold only at A&P, shouldn't A&P be your store?

River Festival a Cultural, Human, Educational Bridge Across River

Address by Randall Robertson, Granite City Attorney, to the Illinois Arts Council this month in Chicago.

I practice law and live in Granite City. I also am a member of the board of directors of the Mississippi River Festival (summer concert series).

Many of the Festival's directors have read the report of the Advisory Commission on Financing the Arts in Illinois and have asked me to bring a few comments on it to you.

Our greatest concern is that the Commission's report seems to have virtually omitted the southern portion of the state.

In the survey of 10 representative communities, only one, Odell, is located below Springfield.

Every one of the institutions in the report's admittedly incomplete list of major arts institutions is based in the Chicago area.

We in Southern Illinois are extremely proud of the magnificent achievements of Chicago, but we do wonder why the Mississippi River Festival, which was attended last year by 140,000 people and operates on an annual budget of well over half a million dollars, is not only omitted from the list of major arts institutions but also from the list of major arts centers.

A Chicago museum operating on a considerably smaller budget and serving considerably fewer people made the list.

Our first recommendation, then, would be to come to us, and to look more carefully at the rest of our great and diverse state.

Governor Ogilvie, in his charge to the Advisory Commission, suggested that consideration be given to a fair statewide allocation of grants, taking note of the unequal distribution of private sources of funding within the state.

The Commission did agree, in its report (page 16), to attempt to correct arts opportunities... would be unequally distributed throughout the population with out state support.

Our second recommendation, then, is that the Council allocate substantial support to the Mississippi River Festival and to other important arts institutions serving the southern part of the state.

The Council must accept the fact that these Southern Illinois institutions, lacking the enormous financial resources and population base found in the Chicago area, cannot be expected to develop private support equal to that of the Chicago institutions.

Our third recommendation is for greater representation for out-state Illinoisans on the Illinois Arts Council itself and on its advisory panels. Indeed, how many members of the Advisory Commission were from Downstate?

Fourthly, we would like to comment on the Commission's recommendation (page 45) that "where support continues in subsequent years, it should be at a reducing rate..."

This policy was adopted initially by the Missouri State Council on the Arts and then discarded.

It has proved disastrous in the case of the Federal government's Title III Elementary and Secondary Education Act grants for projects in the arts.

Hardly one of the hundreds of arts projects created under that program—many extremely successful—still exists.

We believe that if a program deserves state support it should get it, and that support should increase rather than decrease with the program's increasing service to the community and its increasing need.

Our fifth recommendation has to do with the Advisory Commission's recommendation (page 46) that the Illinois Arts Council should actively solicit tax exempt contributions from corporations, foundations and individuals.

We on the Mississippi River Festival believe that we can solicit contributions from these same sources in our area. If some of these funds were to go instead to the Illinois Arts Council, we feel it only fair that Council should also solicit funds from the Southern Illinois area.

Our sixth and last recommendation is a wholehearted endorsement of the Advisory Commission's funding goal of $11,000,000 for the Illinois Arts Council.

The civic and cultural leaders of our part of the state will join with us in this effort necessary to achieve this goal.

I would like to step out of my role as a member of the Mississippi River Festival Board for a moment and close by telling you what I, as a resident of Southern Illinois, personally feel about the Mississippi River Festival.

I live in an area where people have always looked to St. Louis for quality in the arts and in education. The coming of SIU to Edwardsville changed the latter, and the Mississippi River Festival has now changed the former.

Only someone who has lived in the area of Alton-Granite City-East St. Louis-Bellefonte can know what it means to have, at last, a great arts institution which is ours — and one which is great enough to attract thousands of St. Louisans to our area for the first time.

There has never been anything like the Mississippi River Festival in Southern Illinois before.

For a long time, the consensus of business and civic leaders from both sides of the river in approximately equal numbers, many of whom were present for the first time.

Its members come from Alton, Belleville, Edwardsville, Centralia, Collinsville, East St. Louis, Granite City, Highland, Springfield and Troy, as well as St. Louis City and County.

That board also includes six SIU students who join with us in our policy-making and serve on the Festival's committees.

Last year, the Festival raised $34,000 mainly in one dollar contributions during a six-week volunteer campaign called VERA-MID. In addition to its regular fund-raising efforts.

The Festival was the first program in Illinois to receive a substantial grant from the Missouri State Council on the Arts.

The Arts Council of the two states join hands, as did the citizens in what many of us regard as the first bi-state partnership in our part of the country which was really a partnership.

The Advisory Commission, in its report, has said that "the arts have a rare capacity to 'bring us together' and to help reduce misunderstanding and prejudice."

No institution I know of better exemplifies this than the Mississippi River Festival.

I represent here today hundreds of Illinoisans who are, as I am, proud to be a part of the Mississippi River Festival.

I speak for them and for myself in asking your support for the most important cultural, educational and human bridge ever put across the Mississippi River into Southern Illinois.

JANUARY BRIDE. Mrs. David E. Campbell, who was married in an afternoon ceremony at St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church. She is the former Miss Karen Lynn Cowan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice W. Cowan, 3140 Carlson Ave.

Campbell-Cowan Nuptials At St. Margaret Mary

Tall white urns holding arrangements of white gladiolus, snapdragons, "mums and pom poms on the altar, white satin bows marking the pews and a white aisle cloth provided the setting Jan. 15 at St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church for the afternoon wedding of Miss Karen Lynn Cowan and Sergeant David E. Campbell, U. S. Air Force.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice W. Cowan, 3140 Carlson Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glen Campbell, 900 Madison Ave., Wood River.

The Rev. R. T. Becker officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock.

Miss Marie Beljanski, a cousin of the bride, presided over the guest book at a reception given at the Croston Hall in Madison following the ceremony.

Al Haezel sang The Lord's Prayer, "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and "Mother At Thy Feet We're Kneeling." The soloist was accompanied at the organ by Sister Marilyn Therese.

For her wedding, the former Miss Cowan chose a floor-length gown of ivory delustered satin, imported Alencon lace was applied on the Empire bodice, the high mandarin collar and trimmed the long, full sateen sleeves.

Matrils of Alencon lace were repeated on the front of the A-line skirt and accented the detachable tubular chapel train.

A matching lace profile headpiece, embellished with tiny seed pearls, secured the three-tiered bouffant veil of imported ivory illusion. She carried a Victorian-style colonial bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby breath.

Mrs. Joseph M. Hauptman Jr., a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, serving with Miss Claudia Tonsor, Miss Josie Zangori, a cousin of the groom, Miss Teresa Campbell, sister of the groom, Miss Agatha Mancoske, the groom's cousin and Miss Amy Gnaepinger, bridesmaid.

They were attired in identically styled gowns of royal purple velvet designed with a fitted bodice. The long tapered sleeves and neckline were edged with a delicate lace ruffle and the formal length gowns featured an A-line skirt.

Each attendant wore a purple nosegay veil secured with a purple velvet bow. Their Victorian-colonial bouquets were made up of white carnations, purple statice and pink Sweetheart roses.

The groom chose his brother, Larry P. Campbell, as best man. Anthony Tarlino, Karl Jones, Steve Bradley, James Dittman, a cousin of the bride, Glenn L. Tonsor Jr., Joseph M. Hauptman Jr., and Douglas Campbell, the groom's uncle, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Cowan chose for her daughter's wedding a light blue chiffon dress with matching accessories.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Campbell, selected a royal blue velvet dress, complemented with silver accessories. Both mothers wore white cymidium orchid corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, the groom's parents, entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner at the Colonial Super Club.

Annual Tea by DAR Chapter on Feb. 20

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met during the weekend at the home of Mrs. Emma Schoen, 1828 Ferguson Ave. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag led by the regent, Mrs. Mildred Whyler.

The president-general's message was read by Miss Ella Ray Smith, and members present signed a message to be sent to Mrs. Leona Tate, chaplain, a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The chapter voted to make a contribution to Mrs. Roger Innes to aid in her work with the Viva group, in an attempt to help U. S. prisoners in Vietnam.

Final plans were completed for the annual tea, which will be held Sunday afternoon, Feb. 20, in Wesley Hall, Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hoff Mark 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Hoff, former long-time residents of Granite City, will observe their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday at a quiet family dinner party in the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hoff of St. Louis.

The couple was married Jan. 24, 1912 in East St. Louis, while living in this area, Mr. Hoff owned and operated the Hoff shoe store. They moved to St. Louis in 1937 and presently reside at 9606 Lanier St., St. Louis.

The Hoff's are the parents of six sons, Herman Hoff of Van Nuys, Calif., Lawrence Hoff of Belleville, Edward and Arthur Hoff of Granite City and Victor Hoff of Granite City and Victor and Carl Hoff of St. Louis. They also have 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The program was by Mrs. Eva Meier, who gave a report on how the Mental Health Clinic was established in Granite City and how it operates.

Refreshments were served to 12 members.

MR. MRS. STADLER NAME SECOND SON ERIC SHAWN

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Stadler of Festus, Mo., are announcing the arrival of their second child, Eric Shawn, born Jan. 13 at the Jefferson Memorial Hospital in Festus.

The infant has a brother, Michael Bray, age 3. Mrs. Stadler is the former Christine Cynarski of Granite City.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stadler of Crystal City, Mo. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cynarski, 2110 Waterman Avenue.

Three new members, Mrs. Minnie Edwards, Mrs. Janet Brown and Mrs. Betty Edwards, were welcomed.

Mrs. Charlotte Bilibrey of the school committee, reported that St. Mary's in Madison will sponsor a bake sale on Feb. 22 and 23 before and after the Masses.

The ladies are invited to attend a party at St. Mary's on Feb. 13 in the school basement. Sister Rosemary noted that some of the playground balls and ping pong paddles need replacing, and arrangements were made to purchase the needed equipment.

A film, "New Ways of Teaching Religion" will be shown at the next meeting of St. Mary's PTA Feb. 14. Sister Bernadette explained that the film aims to clarify reasons for changed approaches and emphasis in catechism and is helpful for parent-teacher groups and religious faculty. The public is to be invited to attend.

A discussion was held on having a spaghetti dinner Feb. 6 in the church basement, with Mrs. Vickie Bilibrey, Mrs. Ann Cicio and Mrs. Mary Svevia as chairmen of the kitchen.

Plans are being made to have a "Day of Recollection" for entire families during Lent.

Mrs. Velma Shambro of the church committee suggested that new altar linen be purchased, and the members noted their approval.

The meeting adjourned with prayer led by Father O'Connell and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Eleanor Scaturro, Hattie Mulnik, Josie Schmidt and Pat Bilibrey.

Next regular meeting will be March 14, with Mesdames Shirley Ochoa, Ruth Williams, Marlene Miller and Charlotte Bilibrey serving as hostesses.

Other attending were Mesdames Florence Durer, Barbara Burgener, Teresa Burgener, Evelyn Tolliver, Jo Ann Hartman, Bertha Pace, Ina Mae Ponce, Delores Byrnes, Yvonne Kittel, Caroline Malherock and Barbara Hadley.

FAA Grant Approval on Airport Months Away

Approval of a grant for federal funds for the new bi-state airport in Illinois is expected to take three to five months, Jim Thoren, assistant to Arvon B. Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, said Tuesday.

The formal application for $8.4 million in federal matching funds to begin land acquisition in the Columbia-Waterloo area was submitted to the Federal Aviation Administration regional office in Kansas City, Mo., Friday.

The FAA will coordinate its studies with the Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Transportation and other governmental departments before acting on the application.

The application itself, including 36 copies of the environmental impact statement, transcripts of all public hearings on the issue, the record of all East-West Gateway Coordinating Council actions, and all correspondence pertaining to the facility, weighed about 200 pounds, Thoren said. He personally delivered the documents to authorities in Kansas City.

Regional Report -- Rapid Transit Hinges on Preserving the Present Bus Transportation

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Regional news was important in development this week.

Officials of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area announced that federal funds for rapid transit planning have been cut off. The directive to stop any funding came in a letter from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

In freezing the estimated $300,000, allocated for engineering studies of planned rapid transit routes, federal officials cited several reasons for their action:

A lack of coordination between the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council through its interim planning agency, the St. Louis Area Rapid Transit Authority, and the Bi-State Agency, operators of the bus system; the need, to include plans for a new regional airport; the need to revise state highway plans; and a belief that costs for transit could double the $1.5 billion figure given in a preliminary study.

In addition, the federal agency said the most urgent need is to preserve the bus system in the area and it asked for a long-term solution to the financial problems of the bus system.

In an immediate step taken to comply with federal demands, Bi-State and Gateway officials at a meeting agreed the first priority in developing a balanced transportation system for the metropolitan area is in finding a solution to bus system funding problems. In a news release following the meeting, officials of both agencies announced that a foundation had been established for successful coordination of their respective roles in rapid transit planning; a meeting with the governors of both Illinois and Missouri will be requested to discuss financial aid to the deficit-plagued Bi-State Transit System; and, a meeting with officials of the Urban Mass Transportation Administration is to be scheduled in the immediate future.

The proposed new metropolitan area airport also was prominent in the news.

In a move intended to forestall construction of the airport in Illinois, the Missouri House of Representatives approved a bill to create a Missouri-St. Louis Airport Authority.

In a meeting with the Citizens for Missouri Airport, Mayor Alfonso J. Cervantes reiterated his reasons for favoring the Waterloo airport site.

An executive committee, made up of representatives of the major airlines using Lambert, St. Louis International Airport, said Lambert cannot survive more than another 10 years.

The committee is expected to announce a $23 million proposed expansion of Lambert in the near future, a program aimed at meeting area airport needs through 1980.

In other transportation news, the reasonable bids — ranging from less than 1% to 12%, over estimated costs — received last week on the north-south route through Piasa Valley have been hailed as a good sign for area road construction. Apparent low bidder on the project, which calls for the expansion of Piasa St. from 5th to 13th St., was Thacker Construction Co. A delegation from East St. Louis headed by Commissioners

Gordon D. Bush and Edward Horrigan will go to Washington, D. C., this week to try to get money to build sewer lines. The city's Veterans Memorial Bridge, and to promote East St. Louis as the site for a massive black exposition in 1976.

The city's Veterans Memorial Bridge has been losing money since the free Interstate 55-70 bridge across the Mississippi River was opened. The Bank of Edwardsville, for 104 years located at 103 Purcell St., has been moved to a new location at 300 West Vandalla St. Its new home, designed by Commercial Design, Inc., of St. Louis and built by Melvin W. Suhre of Edwardsville, has 19,000 square feet on two levels.

Two executives of the Mississippi River Festival, Randall Robertson of Granite City and Peter Pastreich, general manager of the festival, were two of 35 witnesses who appeared before a session of the Illinois Arts Council.

They recommended that the council allocate substantial support to the Mississippi River Festival and to other important arts institutions serving Southern Illinois.

In general area news, the new buildings and finance committees of the Madison County Board of Supervisors recommended a lease-purchase arrangement for the former Bank of Edwardsville building as an annex to the courthouse in Edwardsville.

Illini Federal Savings and Loan Association is opening a temporary office at 413 West Lincoln Highway to serve Fairview Heights customers until construction of a new headquarters building is completed.

Part of a $15.8 million Granite City sewer extension and treatment plant improvement project has been endorsed by the environmental task force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Illinois Mack contractors have received contracts totaling more than $400,000 for construction work and other services at Scott Air Force Base.

Open house was held at the new offices of the Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Planning Commission at 203 W. Main Street, Collinsville.

GRANITE CITY ILLINOIS

LEARNING CAN BE ENJOYABLE. It is for students in Grover Norwood's bacteriology classes at Granite City High School. Here students view a culture of the type of streptococci which cause

'strep' throat and scarlet rheumatic fever. Mr. Norwood conducts the throat culture program for all parochial and public schools in Granite City.

Students Fascinated By Health Program

The task of testing 2,600 throat cultures may become a bit monotonous for Grover Norwood, a teacher at Granite City High School, but the opportunity to review their teacher's work is one of the high points of the course for students in his bacteriology classes.

Late last week, Mr. Norwood presented the throat cultures which he tested recently to his classes to see if they could detect the presence of B-hemolytic streptococci, the cause of scarlet and rheumatic fever and strep throat.

The cultures were taken as part of the throat culture program in which school nurses take throat samples from every student in parochial and public schools in the city and send them to Mr. Norwood for analysis. In many cases, the test reveals the presence of the harmful streptococci before a student becomes ill and he can be kept home to avoid spreading the illness.

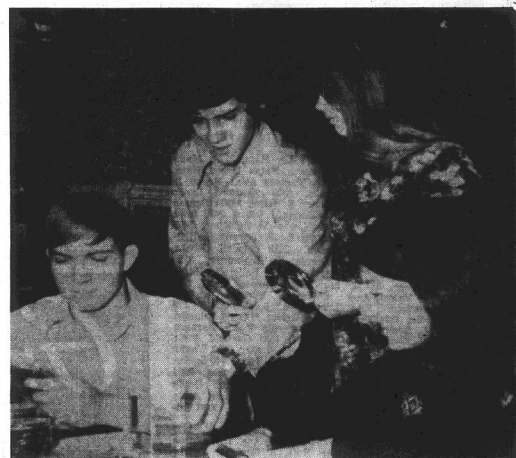

Mr. Norwood has been associated with the program since its inception 12 years ago. Annually the teacher tests about 2,600 samples for the presence of the harmful organisms. Last year 13.4% of the samples were found to contain B-hemolytic streptococci and the percentage in previous years has been as high as 15%.

School nurses normally take a sampling of tests from students in each school but when a high number of cases of the related disease appears in a school, the nurses cooperate to test every student in that school.

Blood agar plates in which to grow the cultures are furnished by the Granite City Board of Education for the program.

The bacteriology students eagerly await their chance to check the culture plates in hopes of catching Mr. Norwood in an error. Possibly someday one will, but it has not been done yet.

Most SIU-SW Fresh Rank High in Top 30%

More than half of the freshmen entering Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in the fall quarter of 1971 ranked in the upper 30% of their high school graduating class.

That information and other facts on 1,439 freshmen beginning at SIU-SW last September are contained in "Freshman Profile," a pamphlet developed by the admissions office to aid high school principals and counselors.

In the upper 10% of their high school classes were 20.5% of the entering freshmen. Another 20.5% of those entering graduated in the 80-90 percentile range of their high school class and 16.8% graduated in the 70-range.

Other entering freshmen ranked lower in their graduating classes, including 2.9% in the 0-20 percentile range. Most students admitted who were in the lower half of their high school class ranked above the 52nd percentile on the American College Test, a nationally administered examination required of all applicants.

The pamphlet shows that 92.2% of the entering freshmen had Illinois residences, with more than 80% living in St. Clair or Madison counties. Of those freshmen listing out-of-state residences, about 67% lived in Missouri.

Crazy Horse Won His Nickname at Age of 14

Editor's Note: Crazy Horse, 1849-1877, was a Sioux Indian who belonged to the Oglala tribe. A wise but bitter man, Crazy Horse led the Indian attack against Gen. George Custer in June, 1876. This is another in a series on what famous people were like in their teens.

By BETT ANDERSON
Copley News Service

As a teenager, Crazy Horse had problems. For one thing, he did not have straight, black hair like the other boys in the Oglala tribe. He had pale hair and pale skin.

Even worse, his hair was wavy. The other boys kidded the life out of him. They even called him "Curly" instead of Haska, his real name.

His mother had died when he was very young and he had a stepmother. On top of all this, his father was a holy man in the tribe. This meant he refused to steal horses and so Haska's family was very poor.

On the other hand, Haska had a lot of things going for him. He was the best horseback rider in the whole tribe. He had the respect of the Oglala warriors because he once saved his brother from a grizzly bear. He was a neat runner and won all the foot races. And he had a dream which made him feel 10 feet tall. He dreamed that one day he would be a great chief.

In 1854, when Haska was only 14, he tamed a big brute of a wild horse. The stallion tried to kill him. But Haska stayed on even when the horse bucked, zigzagged, and ran so fast that he was covered with foam. After that, everyone called Haska "Crazy Horse."

Crazy Horse began to hate the white man when he was 15. He saw Indian villages burned down by soldiers. He saw his friends killed in surprise attacks. And he saw wise old men from his tribe led away to the whites' prisons.

At 16, Crazy Horse was a bitter teenager. He could hardly wait to become a warrior so that he could fight the white men. He practiced killing buffalo and pretended that they were his enemies. He longed to get revenge for the way his people had been treated.

But even in his wildest dreams, Crazy Horse never imagined that he would go down in history as the Indian who wiped out Custer and every single one of Custer's men in a single battle.

Crazy Horse was in love with a girl named Hopa. But while he was out fighting the Crow warriors, she married someone else. He later went steady with Her-Black-Robe and finally married her.

Expanded Coed Housing At SIU-C Campus Seen

The first coeducational residence hall on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has worked out so well, that the plan may be expanded next year, according to Will W. Travelstead, assistant dean of student services.

Travelstead termed the one-year experimental plan that began in September as "a great success." He said the arrangement has been so well received by students and staff that additional SIU residence hall may be turned coed next year.

The SIU program began in September when 120 men and women moved into Steagall Hall of the Thompson Point residence area. Travelstead said the coed hall was initiated because of student requests.

SIU is the first major state-supported university to have men and women living in alternating suites on the same floor of a building, according to Travelstead.

The alternating arrangement is possible because SIU buildings have two adjoining rooms that share a bathroom and form a suite.

Travelstead said single students who returned to SIU facilities in January were given a questionnaire asking what type of housing they desire. He said the survey results will determine if more coed facilities are desired.

SIU will provide the type of housing students want, but will continue to offer separate housing for men and women who choose this, Emil E. Spees, associate dean of student services, said.

WOMEN DON'T LIKE To Be Unescorted To Dinner . . . Recommended Solution Take Your Wife to Dinner and Be a GREAT GUY!
BERT'S CHUCKWAGON
1537 JOHNSON RD.

Spees said SIU currently has single men and women living in separate buildings, but sharing dining facilities. SIU was one of the first universities to have this arrangement in the 1950s, according to Spees, who said separate building shared dining room was considered "coed" at that time.

Students having readily accepted the coed hall, and no major problems have developed, Travelstead said. He said floor integration is "a very profitable experience," and that the coed building is locked 24 hours a day to keep out strangers.

Coed residency will be limited to students on good academic and disciplinary standing with the university, according to Travelstead, who said first quarter freshmen will not be allowed to live in these buildings.

Travelstead said parents are advised that their son or daughter will live in coeducational facilities, but parental permission is not required.

Probably the teacher's greatest, said the university is "doing what we can to facilitate the best attitude for study."

Indications are that the coeducational program will be expanded next year, "unless something unforeseen happens," he said.

Illinois View--Aid Gifted Pupils And You Help Society in General

Copley News Service

Springfield—The Illinois School Code does not define what a "gifted" child is, but the state school superintendent's office is currently spending between $3 and $4 million yearly to find him and give him the kind of special educational opportunities he needs.

While California, for instance, defines as "gifted" any youngster who scores 145 or above on the standard Binet 10 test, Illinois' code describes as gifted the child whose "mental development is accelerated beyond the average" to the extent that he requires special educational programs.

This ambiguity is actually a benefit and not a handicap, according to Robert H. Hardy, director of the gifted children section of the department for exceptional children in the office of state school superintendent Michael J. Bakalis.

The very lack of definition permits flexibility which he finds essential. For, while most gifted children tend to be good in every area, some are not, and may be talented in music, mathematics or the performing arts and not reflect any unusual progress in other areas.

What is a handicap, he feels, is that the program—first initiated in the state in 1959—is still not mandatory.

Instead, schools and districts can only be encouraged and assisted in undertaking programs for the gifted.

To aid them the gifted children's section operates in five main areas.

Financial reimbursement for program development (but not to support a system already established).

Ten area service centers which assess needs, and develop programs to meet them.

Experimental projects.

A 12-member full-time state professional staff (next largest program is California's with two staff members full-time) aided by 30 staff members at the service centers.

And a program of continuing professional education for teachers, with pre-service and in-service, on a year-round basis.

Between 60 and 100 in-service workshops for teaching the gifted are held monthly in Illinois, in addition to summer institutes, many of which grant teachers college credit.

Currently, the section is budgeted for $2 million for reimbursement, $1 million area service centers, $400,000 for experimental programs, $100,000 for training and $200,000 for staff.

Nine of the ten area service centers function for specific areas. The tenth, in Skokie, specializes in only the performing arts, and its services are available to teachers and schools throughout the state.

The other nine are located in Champaign, Rockford, Chicago, Eureka, Carthage, Lebanon, Arlington Heights, Marion and Bloomington.

The program is based on a "talent retrieval" concept, Hardy says, since "when you help the gifted child, you help society in general."

In an attitude rare in educational circles today, he adds, "The answer isn't more money and more buildings. More money would be nice—we could help more programs. But we need understanding and participation more."

"We can do the job with the people who are already there," hence the emphasis on in-service training.

At present, only a little over 400 school districts, out of about 1,100 in the state, have programs for the gifted.

Some 75,000 "gifted" children currently have been identified in Illinois. But since it is estimated that 5% to 8% of the total pupil population falls in the "gifted" category, at least 50,000 talented youngsters in the state have not been found, Hardy says.

Ironically, they may be classified by their teachers as "underachievers" and troublemakers, because they are bored and not challenged.

Part of the problem in getting districts to set up programs, Hardy finds, is a fear of "elitism" in this country, where "everyone wants to help the underdog, the underprivileged, but we only want to help him reach our own level. We aren't anxious to help him get ahead of us."

Three public forums were held this week to obtain public reaction to Illinois programs for gifted and talented children.

The forums were held in Arlington Heights on Monday, Champaign on Tuesday and Marion yesterday.

In each case, three persons conducted interviews simultaneously at 15-minute intervals in the afternoon and evening, making it possible for more than 80 persons to express their views during each of three forum sessions.

The series, Hardy said, is part of an effort to "consider alternative plans for the possible restructuring of the current Illinois Gifted Program."

The gifted children's section has contracted with Dr. M. J. Conrad of the department of educational administration of Ohio State University to aid in developing possible alternate plans.

Particularly, Hardy said, the department is interested in obtaining information on goals for the gifted program, various program possibilities for educating gifted children, and an estimate of what major elements should be included in developing new statewide plans.

In addition to the ten area service centers, the gifted children section conducts experimental projects at Urbana, Carbondale, Casey, Chicago, Charleston, Evansville, Granite City, Carthage, Normal, Rockford and Edwardsville.

The program maintains specialists in state regions centered at Aurora, Chicago, Glen Ellyn, Jacksonville, Washington, Arcadia, Edwardsville and Mount Vernon.

Aim of all the aspects of the program as currently set up is to assess needs for special education for gifted children in the state, to find the children and identify them and their needs, and to set up programs with local school administrators to meet them.

Overall, the state presently spends $60 million annually on educating a 1.1 "exceptional" children in Illinois, a category which includes both the gifted and the handicapped.

Dr. Frank Sobkowski, dean of the School of Dental Medicine at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, has requested an accreditation visit by the Council on Dental Education before the council's May meeting.

"Sobkowski said submission of a favorable report by the visiting team could mean conditional accreditation for the School of Dental Medicine when the council meets in May, allowing the dental school at SIU's Alton center to accept students in September, 1972."

The Council on Dental Education, an arm of the American Dental Association, had recommended a delay until at least September, of admission of the dental school's first class. The delay was recommended largely because of what the council considered the uncertainty of the state's financial commitment to the School of Dental Medicine.

The recommendation was in a report sent last month to SIU-SW President John S. Rordeman, after a council visit to the University Nov. 4 and 5.

Seek Accreditation For Dental School

Dr. Frank Sobkowski, dean of the School of Dental Medicine at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, has requested an accreditation visit by the Council on Dental Education before the council's May meeting.

The recommendation was in a report sent last month to SIU-SW President John S. Rordeman, after a council visit to the University Nov. 4 and 5.

Dr. Mario Santangelo, assistant secretary of the Council on Dental Education, said the council would "receive at any time" a progress report on the School of Dental Medicine and would consider revisiting the school to reevaluate its decision regarding entrance of a class in 1972.

"In reference to the specific recommendation regarding financial commitment to our program, it will be possible at the time of the council's May meeting to indicate compliance with this recommendation up to the level of legislative and executive action," Sobkowski wrote.

"These latter two commitments will be forthcoming in June and July respectively. Therefore I would like to request that the council consider at its May meeting the granting of conditional approval to initiate our dental program in September, 1972," Sobkowski wrote. "Final approval could be rendered by mail ballot after this time, subject to evidence of legislative and executive approval and the release of approved monies."

Seek Ruling on Pontoon Police Office Repairs

Temper flared at the initial 1972 meeting of the Pontoon Beach village board as Treasurer Carl Hackney presented bills totaling $486 for skirting and other work on the mobile home police department office.

Deen Rochester of the village board asked why the proposal to do the work was not presented to the board for approval. He received no answer.

"On Jan. 5, I received a telephone call asking me if I would approve this bill, I said no. Later I got a harassing and abusive phone call on this bill and again I refused."

"I demand a complete investigation of this bill—why no bids were made without board approval, and why this bill was sought to be paid without using the procedures set up by this board," Rochester declared.

He asked for a legal opinion on the bill and made a motion to exclude all bills connected with work on the mobile home.

The motion passed with Fred Reeder and John Cole abstaining.

The bills in question included a $350 bill from Bud Marlette, former police dispatcher, for labor, and Emmitt Jones Lumber Co., 739 Chain of Rocks Road, for $117 for skirting material and $19 for insulation materials.

Marlette, who was in the audience, defended his position. He said, he had spent 90 hours repairing the mobile home suspension, wrapping the water pipes, fixing the sewer pipe, chipping asphalt from under the unit and installing the new skirting material. The old mobile home skirt was damaged by high winds.

The board agreed to pay the remaining bills and to seek a legal opinion on the three controversial bills.

POSTHUMOUS AWARDS. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Freise of Venice, at left, receive Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Palm and Vietnamese Military Merit Medal from Marine Sergeant Bill Tatum. The decorations were awarded posthumously to their son, Marine Private First Class Melvin Freise, 19, fatally wounded in Vietnam on April 23, 1969. The presentation took place Saturday at Anvets Post 51. At right is Post Commander Ben Sanders.

Venice Marine Awarded Two Posthumous Medals

Re-Enlists in Navy

Navy Petty Officer First Class James E. Burgess, husband of the former Mrs. Charles R. Hall of 482 Carl St., Granite City, has been awarded a Seventh Fleet Letter of Commendation and re-enlisted in the Navy for two years during ceremonies aboard the guided missile frigate USS William H. Standley, homeported at Mayport, Fla. He was cited for his work as a Circuit Controller Supervisor during an around-the-world cruise by the Standley.

Ends Basic Training

Marine Private Keith E. Hoedebeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Hoedebeck, 3234 Red Bud Ave., Granite City, has graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, He is a 1971 graduate of Granite City Senior High School.

A Venice couple sadly, but proudly, accepted two decorations Saturday conferred posthumously by the government of South Vietnam upon their son, Marine Private First Class Melvin John Freise, 19, who died of multiple fragmentation wounds on April 23, 1969, near DaNang, South Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Freise, 1325 Robin St., Venice, received the decorations — the Vietnamese Gallantry Cross with Palm and the Vietnam Military Merit Medal — in ceremonies at Anvets Post 51 Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

The medals were presented Mr. and Mrs. Freise by Marine Sergeant Bill Tatum from the Marine Corps recruiting service in East St. Louis. Also marking the occasion, Mrs. Betty Wilkins, Anvets Auxiliary president, presented Mrs. Freise a personal gift and Mrs. Agnes Konkovich, Americanism chairman, gave the serviceman's mother an American flag lapel pin. Brief remarks also were made by Post 51 Commander Ben Sanders.

The death of Marine Pfc Freise started a civic salutation in Venice, which later spread throughout the United States at the urging of Anvets posts, in which all city flags are lowered to half mast upon the death of a local serviceman.

The flag lowering tradition, officially adopted by the Venice City Council, was initiated at the suggestion of a classmate of Pfc Freise—Airman Michael Boushvard of Venice. The airman is now serving in Thailand.

Anvets Post 51 officer Steve Konkovich, reported the flag lowering policy to National Anvets officials and the practice was commended in special Price Control Meeting.

Young Co. Pipe Used In Centralia Sewers

A special double lock seam spiral sewer pipe, manufactured by Young Metal Products Co., has ended flooding worries in Centralia, Ill.

The new 16-gauge steel pipe sections, heavily galvanized with zinc and covered inside and out with a protective coating of asphalt, were manufactured at the Ladoga, Ind., plant of Young Metal Products Co., but is similar to the products produced at the Granite City plant, 2686 Highway 67.

The 20 foot sections of pipe were lighter and easier to work with than concrete, according to the project engineer for the Centralia sewer system.

William Wente, a representative of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service in Springfield, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Central Labor Bidders of the Tri-Cities, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Alton-Wood River, East St. Louis and Belleville at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Communications Building at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. Government price controls will be the topic. The public is invited.

Benefit Auctions for American Indians

An auction of a variety of items offered for sale is held every Saturday starting at 7:30 p.m. in Caseyville, with all proceeds used for the benefit of 50,000 American Indians living on reservations in the Dakotas and Montana. The auction is directed by Cletus Wilson, president of the American Indian Development Organization.

Mr. Wilson, who has been an active supporter of the program to aid the Indians, conducts the auctions at 411 East O'Fallon St. and uses the proceeds to purchase the food and clothing he will take to the reservations in the spring.

He has arranged for a motor caravan of six to eight tractor-trailers loaded with the articles, for the Indians living near the Ridge, S. D. area, and in Montana. The caravan will leave this area in April for the annual pilgrimage.

The auction project is supported by interested persons who donate such items as furniture, appliances, clothing or any usable household articles. A pick-up service has been arranged and any resident in the Quad-City area or near Caseyville, who wishes to contribute may do so by calling 345-1624.

Wilson also has arranged for bands, who play country style music, to perform for a dance two hours preceding the auction each Saturday night.

Indians who receive assistance primarily are from the Black Feet, Crow, Cheyenne and Sioux tribes.

Transportation, Environment, Education Progress, New State Constitution Cited

Text of the "State of the State" message by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie to the 77th Illinois General Assembly when it convened for 1972 this month. The convening of this recessed session of the 77th General Assembly marks the beginning of the fourth year of this administration.

During the past three years we have been confronted with the responsibility of making many critical decisions — and we have made them.

As we begin this year of 1972, there are serious problems which remain unsolved.

But, as your governor, I am pleased to report to you that the state of this state today compares more than favorably with other states whose governors are reporting to their legislatures as I report to you.

Many governors, including the leaders of some of the largest and richest states in the nation, are telling of drastic reductions in essential services, and reporting the need for new tax revenues.

Major new taxes are being imposed in New York, California, Ohio and Pennsylvania, for example.

We in Illinois, by contrast, can point to significant improvements in our delivery of essential services for mental health, environmental services, for mental health, environment, penal reform, day care.

We in Illinois, by contract, can point to significant improvements in our delivery of essential services for mental health, environmental services, for mental health, environment, penal reform, day care.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD Page 42 Thurs., Jan. 20, 1972

public health, school lunches, drug abuse, and other important programs.

Unlike almost every other state, we have not — and will not — reduce our payments to the helpless children, the aged, the blind, and other unfortunate who cannot work through no fault of their own.

We are increasing our commitment for scholarships to broaden the availability of higher education in every part of the state.

We are opening new medical schools and working to contain the costs of medical and hospital care.

And let me emphasize, this means full funding of scholarships for the first time in history, an expanded new formula to help our junior colleges, and full expansion of our programs for new medical schools downstate.

Yesterday, President Corbally of the University of Illinois assured me that the Rockford, Peoria and Urbana medical schools will be opened on schedule.

At the same time, let me emphasize that President Corbally has assured me that the University of Illinois will accept the appropriation figure that has been recommended by the Board of Higher Education, and this means that all our higher education systems are in agreement with the higher board.

Therefore, in my budget in March, I intend to support those recommendations.

But, most important, we are dedicated to that one policy which is of direct benefit to all the people of Illinois.

We are going to operate their government in 1972 without any increase in state taxes.

At the same time, we will provide the necessary services and continue to improve both their quality and availability in every part of Illinois.

This is a far cry from the situation which existed when I first appeared as governor before a joint session of the General Assembly.

On that occasion, in January 1969, this state was hopelessly in debt, falling in its responsibilities to child and adult alike, and without any plan to halt the plunge into bankruptcy.

Even the most stringent management economies could do no more than bring temporary relief.

A completely new solution to the problem of financing state government was clearly demanded. The challenge was urgent.

So on April 1, 1969, I propose to the 76th General Assembly the imposition of a state income tax and other financial moves designed to aid schools and other local government units.

While other states were failing, we adopted this new revenue program for Illinois. We expected criticism — and we took it.

Now we can see the sound results of our decision. Illinois is not bankrupt. It is prospering, with more jobs and more opportunity than ever before.

We have provided massive increases in support for education: nearly two billion dollars in new funds.

In three years state aid for the elementary and secondary schools has been almost twice as great as during the previous three years, increasing from one billion, 300 million dollars to one billion, 521 million dollars.

Expenditures for higher education have risen from 925 million dollars to one billion, 521 million dollars, an increase of 64%.

We have provided unrestricted state payments to hard-pressed local governments. By July, these governments will have received $225 million dollars as direct revenue-sharing from the income tax.

This is in addition to the increased payments they get from the state sales and motor fuel taxes.

At the same time, we have established 17 new state parks, adding 45,000 acres to the state's park system, with further expansion under way. We have started a comprehensive, long-range plan for the development of new parks and the protection of recreational areas.

We have made immense improvements in the highways. More than 3,000 miles of older roads have been widened and resurfaced.

Eighty per cent of the Interstate highways assigned to Illinois have been completed. And more than 600 lives have been saved because of the reduced traffic hazards on Illinois highways.

All of these results — and many more — can be traced to the decisions made in the faithful legislative sessions of 1969.

But by January 1970, we saw new problems, and we faced them.

Pollution was degrading the air we breathe and the water we drink. From Lake Michigan to the Ohio, our waters and shores were threatened.

Our laws had failed. Efforts to provide major anti-pollution funds had failed.

I called on you to face the challenge. We submitted a $750 million bond issue to the people and enlisted leaders of business and industry to support it.

Passage of the bond issue and the enactment of strict anti-pollution laws have placed this state in the national spotlight in this important area of government responsibility. But Illinois has not only passed tough anti-pollution laws. We have also provided enforcement personnel and powers to the attorney general of this state, and he has used them to make pollution unprofitable for any who fail to respond to nobler motivation.

The year 1970 also marked the adoption of a new constitution after 100 years and five previous failures — a Magna Carta for state and local government in Illinois.

We no longer have the excuse that equitable and effective reforms are blocked by the old constitution.

We gained the constitutional tools we needed to demonstrate that state government can still work well within the federal system.

In January 1971, as I addressed the joint session of the 77th General Assembly, I spoke of the opportunities and the challenges posed by this new charter.

I called on the legislature to make use of the new powers granted to us, particularly in the area of transportation.

And you responded with the passage of the first comprehensive transportation program in the history of Illinois.

As a result, we are preserving our suburban community railroad service, our vital mass-transit service in cities in every part of the state, and we have saved $100 million program for improvements to airports.

At the same time, we are under way with development of a system of supplemental freeways for every part of Illinois, and we are implementing a $100 million program for improvements to airports.

Under the new Department of Transportation, all of these interdependent and interwoven services are coordinated to guarantee the continuity of programs and to emphasize the need for a comprehensive transportation network to serve each traveler well.

This General Assembly has made our significant contributions to the public good. I refer, for example, to your passage of tough laws regulating strip mining which insure that stripped land is restored to agriculture, forestry, wildlife habitat and recreation.

You have given this state new laws which were badly needed against drunk drivers.

And you passed significant reforms in the field of insurance, including no-fault, involuntary protection and other measures to increase the safeguards and lower the costs for all of our people.

But there have been some notable failures also. One year ago, I called for adoption of strong ethics legislation and for enactment of laws to regulate campaign spending.

The failure to pass these bills has increased skepticism about the responsibility of public officials, and has eroded respect for the institutions of government.

There is no excuse for any further delay on ethics. And there can be no excuse for diluting the strong medicine which is so obviously prescribed at this time.

So, once again, I urge this General Assembly to enact tough legislation without loopholes and without escape clauses.

Only such action will contribute to the restoration of confidence in our democratic process, and in the officials who govern it.

The modest appropriation to finance the activities of the Judicial Inquiry Board must be approved. There is no excuse for the threats which, to date, have hampered this new board.

And there is no honest explanation for failure to pass this appropriation immediately.

There are other matters which challenge the ability of this legislature to rise above partisanship and respond to the needs of our society.

I refer to personal property tax relief, especially to our overburdened farmers — to indiscriminate local licensing of the professions, to the scenic rivers Act, to welfare, to election reform, to a law to protect Lake Michigan. I refer to needed judicial reforms.

We can put an end to political control of the judiciary by providing for merit selection of judges through nonpolitical election as a start, so that no false issue is injected about a power grab by the appointing authority.

These are some of the challenges that face this session of the General Assembly. There are others, of course. Each of these should be met before adjournment.

There is one challenge to state government this year which transcends all others. I refer to our responsibility to provide the best possible education for every child in Illi-

R. L. Terrell Promoted To Airman First Class

Richard L. Terrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terrell, 2413 Edwards St., has been promoted to airman first class in the U. S. Air Force.

studies in depth. They will review the organization of school districts, financing and management practices as well as the quality of instruction.

Dr. Bakalis personally will serve as chairman of the group which concentrates on organization and structure of the educational system.

Distinguished citizens from outside of government will head the groups which will analyze classroom quality and management practices.

Each of the four working task forces will be organized within the month. I shall expect reports from each task force and recommendations before the 78th General Assembly convenes next January.

Illinois has the talent and ability to lead the nation in the field of education. We shall be satisfied with nothing less.

There is no more important assignment to which we can dedicate the resources of this state.

And if we provide the leadership and the inspiration to attain this goal of quality for all, we shall indeed complete this fourth year with honor.

The task will not be easy. And, once again, some of the recommendations may test our courage.

James Morris, the British historian, said it well when he wrote:

"Who is loved is not the end of greatness. Do right, — and damn the odds."

In this spirit, I ask your help in doing what is right for the people of Illinois.

These task forces are:

1. Finance.

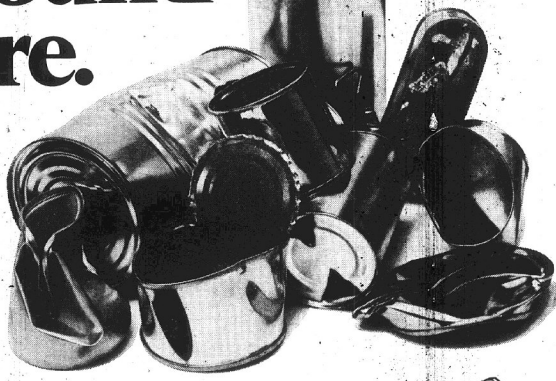

2. Organization and Structure.

3. Classroom Quality.

4. Business Management Practices.

Man Injured, 4 Cars Damaged in Accident

One man was injured and four cars were damaged during a freak accident in the 200 block of McCambridge Avenue in Madison Monday.

James T. Hyde, 36, of 2812 Edgewood Ave., was injured when his northbound car was forced from the road by another car that turned in front of him, police said. Hyde's car struck a utility pole at the side of the road.

As police were directing traffic around the accident scene, the northbound car of Louis E. Kovach, Pocahontas, and the southbound car of Pamela S. Westbrook, 3134 Nameoki Road, collided.

Hyde was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pain to his chest. X-rays of his chest and rib cage were taken and he was released.

Prison 'Furlough' Program Has 100% Success Rating

Copley News Service Springfield—The newly adopted Illinois "furlough" program for certain prison inmates so far has a 100% success rate for the only prison involved, and has reported only one serious incident among work release prisoners taking part.

To date, nearly 200 men, judged after careful screening to be good security risks, have been granted three-day leaves to visit their families.

A. M. Monahan, assistant director of the adult division of the state department of corrections, said that something over 70 men have been granted furloughs from the state's only minimum security facility, at Vienna, and with no exceptions all of them have returned to prison on time as scheduled.

Another 90 or more prisoners currently enrolled in the five work release programs at state correctional institutions have been given furloughs, Monahan said, and though in a few cases there have been short delays which made them a little late in getting back, "without exception" the inmates have phoned appropriate authorities explaining the delay. He added that in all cases so far it was judged the excuse was a legitimate one.

The sole serious violation to date, he said, involved a Peoria incident in which a work release prisoner spent a furlough with his wife and children, left them to return to prison, and then was killed when he attempted a holdup before reporting back to prison. The prisoner involved had appeared to be an "excellent" risk, Monahan said, since he was cleared for the work release program, had been screened for the furlough program, had a job, money in both savings and checking accounts, and was within a short period of being released to return to his wife and family.

Generally, Monahan said, prisoners have been anxious to accept the program, which avoid being held responsible by fellow prisoners for any interruption of the program. A number of prisoners have written him, he said, praising the program and at least one has written that he was able to affect a reconciliation with his estranged wife, after he was able to go and visit her personally.

Some scattered public objections have been received, he said, but added that most reporters have been anxious to act in to the program, which started about Thanksgiving, have been good so far.

NAMEOKI ROAD MISHAP
A 1965 driven by Frank A. Mastin, Florissant, Mo., and Marla C. Runge, 18 Fairway Estates, were in an accident Monday at 2310 Nameoki road.

WALKS INTO CAR
Eddie L. Jordan, 200 Carver St., Madison, told police a pedestrian walked into the side of his car on Madison Avenue at 19th Street, Monday, breaking the outside rear view mirror of the vehicle. He said the pedestrian then got onto a bus and left the scene.

Must Live In Home

Those eligible for the $1,500 exemptions must be 65 years of age or older and reside in the home for which they claim the exemption.

Barton said that only 500 applications have been filed this far. When the program was initiated in 1970 a total of 1,400 Granite City residents filed the exemption forms. A total of about 1,000 applications were filed at that time in the other three townships of the area.

Applicants who filed applica-

Still Time to File For Homestead Exemptions

Elderly homeowners eligible for $1,500 assessment exemptions on their real estate should file applications for the tax savings at the township assessor's office as soon as possible, it was reported today.

Applications must be filed for the 1972 tax year to provide the reduction in tax bills payable in 1973, according to James Barton, Granite City township assessor. Residents of Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships also have been urged to file the new applications with the assessors of their respective townships.

Barton said filing under the 1972 exemption program has been slow because of publicity given a recent Supreme Court ruling that voided the exemptions for the 1971 tax year on which taxes will be paid this summer.

"Many people eligible for the exemptions who applied last year, only to have the exemption nullified by the court, seem to be under the impression that the program has been eliminated entirely," Barton said. "This is not true. The court voided the exemptions only for the 1971 tax year because of a retroactive clause in the legislation."

He said the exemptions will apply for the 1972 year for which assessments are now being made. No deadline has been set for filing the applications, but eligible homeowners should file applications as soon as possible to avoid being caught by a deadline that could be set at any time.

Youth on Bicycle

Chased, Struck in Face.
Mark Voegelge, 3168 Aubrey Ave., reported at 6:15 p.m. Monday that as he was leaving the Bellemore Village shopping center on his bicycle, he was chased by three youths, stopped and struck in the face.

He said his glasses were broken and were thrown over a hedge. He added that the youths had been riding his bike while he was in a store but had given it back to him.

Explorer Scouts To Pick Up Glass

Explorer Post 68, sponsored by Miles Laboratories, Inc., will hold a glass drive between 9 a.m. and noon Saturday to raise funds for a field trip to Chicago scheduled in May.

The Explorers are interested in all types of glass containers, regardless of size, shape or color.

Residents of the area are asked to contact Rick Justice, 2832 Logan Ave., phone 872-6416; or Mike Mullins, 3274 Westchester Drive, phone 877-2391, for pickup service.

Those who have not filed a previous application, however, must provide a copy of their deed, Barton pointed out.

The Granite City assessor's office is located at 2037 State St.
